

Laguna Heights – last few units selling fast

Laguna Heights, the low-rise flagship condominium of the Heights Holdings Group on Wong-Amat beach is very close to being completely sold out, writes Dave Buckley.

Already many of the owners have taken up residence but there are a few large apartments still available which are now, of course, fully built.

As this magazine went to press final finishing touches were being made to the common areas of the building and on the top floor sundeck and infinity pool.

The exterior is finished and the landscaping around the reception area is finalised as can be seen in the picture above.

Also fully installed are the fitness and gymnasium suite and the beautiful lobby and reception area, both of which can be seen below.

Why choose Laguna?

I asked a spokesman for Heights Holdings to explain: Why choose Laguna Heights?

He replied: "Laguna Heights introduces comfortable and convenient beachside living to one of Pattaya's most desired neighbourhoods. It is, quite simply, an outstanding location.

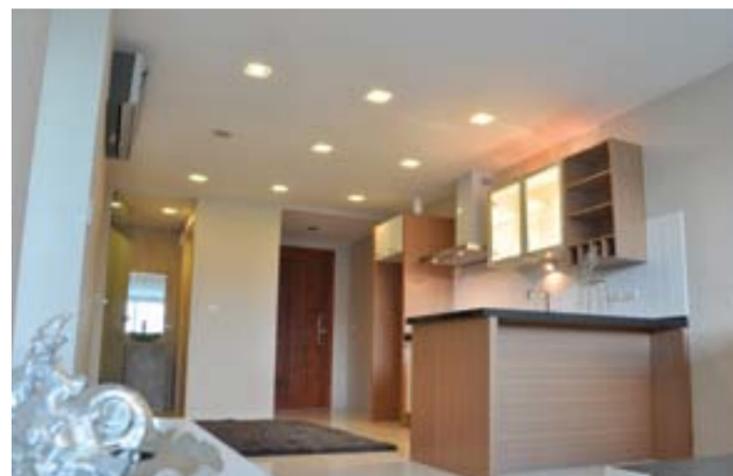

"With more than 10,000sqm metres of built area and only 79 units in the entire development, Laguna Heights is a triumph of avant-garde design in a tropical setting overlooking the pristine and exclusive Wong-Amat beach, which lies 100m distant."

He added: "The beach's golden sands present endless opportunities to laze under the palms, dine al fresco or indulge in the beauty of an enchanting sunset."

Those interested in checking out Laguna Heights further will find a fully furnished, ultra-modern showroom complete with top quality German (Hafele) kitchen fittings in evidence. These fittings are typical of those featured in all Laguna Heights apartments. The furniture is from Modernform, HH's official partner.

The showroom (pictured right) is open every day for inspection between 9am and 5pm.
